

LORETTA MARINO SANFORD

PRINCIPAL CONSULTANT

Education

- Bachelor of Science, Biology, University of New England,
- Graduate work in Training and Organizational Development, Boston University

Registrations

- Certified Environmental Trainer (CET), National Environmental Training Association
- Certified Instructor for CPR, AED, and First Aid, American Heart Association
- Certified Workplace Violence Prevention Specialist with National Association of Safety Professionals

Experience Summary:

Ms. Sanford has over 20 years of management consulting experience in sustainable practices related to employee and business operations. She has developed and advanced programs; designed and delivered creative and effective training programs; and created public information programs; formulated strategic plans, and designed effective accident prevention safety, critical incident management systems. She has created specialized training programs for educational institutions, conservation, recreation and cultural organizations.

